28. Brickell, Miami

Miami's mini Manhattan continues to grow and evolve – and not just upwards. Earlier this year, phase one of The Underline – a 10-mile linear park – opened in Brickell, adding tons of outdoor space for exercising, community events and public art to the dense city centre. Dubbed the Brickell Backyard, the development is dotted with diverse habitats and butterfly gardens created with help from Fairchild Tropical Botanic Garden. Happy hour boomed in 2021 as Brickell welcomed two of its most popular after-work spots back to the neighbourhood. Beloved raw bar River Oyster reopened in a spacious new location up the road, freeing up its original spot for a revival of Tobacco Road – Miami's oldest bar, which Kush Hospitality Group cleverly resurrected this past winter.

The perfect day: Whether hungover or just plain hungry, a stuffed croissant from B Bistro + Bakery is the perfect start to the day. Follow it up with a shopping trip to Brickell City Centre, an outdoor mall with just the right amount of cover to shield you from the elements, and a waterfront spin class at Riverside Miami, where studio RedBike pops up on select evenings.

Plan your trip: To check out the new Floridian outpost of one of L.A.'s hottest supper clubs, which opens early next year. Delilah will be a sprawling, tropical-themed space where punters can arrive by yacht to experience dinner and a show.
